THE PRESIDENT AND MRS. HARDING entertained a box party at the National Theater last evening, having as their guests Senator and Mrs. Harry New and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Washburn Child. This afternoon Mrs. Harding will receive a number of callers, as is her custom when her engagements permit.

Vice President Coolidge will be a ruest tonight at the Gridiron Club dinner, Mrs. Coolidge taking an evening off—and probably finding it a luxury, since she has dined out pretty nearly every night this week and has another full week before her. Today Mrs. William F. Dennis gave a luncheon for Mrs. Coolidge, having twenty guests in the comhaving twenty guests in the com-pany asked to meet her. They were seated at one long table which was covered with an unusually beauti-ful lace cloth and decked with radi-ance roses, white lilacs and snap-dragens. The menu was made up entirely of Southern dishes. Some of the ladies of the diplomatic corps and of the official world were inand of the official world were included among the guests.

Tomorrow the Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge will be guests of honor at the breakfast which Mrs. Frederick Keep and her sister, Miss Mabel Boardman, are giving at Grasslands; and in the evening they will dine with Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh. This will be an informal party, and later on Mrs. Walsh will have a more "official" dinner in place of the one which was post-poned from April 5 in order that Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge might attend the dinner at the White House in honor of M. Viviani.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge is giving a dinner on Monday night in henor of the Vice President and Mrs. Coolidge. On Wednesday they will be dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Hamlin, on Thursday, of the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and Mrs. Charles D. Walcott and on Friday evening they will dine with Mrs. Davis Ireland. Mrs. Henry F. Dimock has invitations out for a dinner in their honor on Saturday evening, April 16.

On Tuesday Mrs. Coolidge will preside over the meeting of the Ladies of the Senate and their picnic luncheon-their first under the new Administration; and on Wednesday she is planning to attend a luncheon at the Children's Hospital, an institution in which she is much interested. On Thursday, Mrs. Frank . Hight is giving a luncheon in her honor. Mrs. Hight's sister, Mrs. Levi Grenwood, of Boston, an old friend of Mrs. Coolidge, is coming to Washington to visit Mrs. Hight and to attend the luncheon.

Harry E. Marlowe Will Be Feature of Performance for Policeman's Widow.

April 20 has been selected as the and Immaculate Conception Eighth and N tareets northwest, as the place for the benefit performance the Delhi Club will stage to raise funds for the relief of Mrs. Preston E. Bradley, widow of the Second precinct policeman who sacrificed his life in the line of duty. George Durno, manager of the theatrical troupe, consisting of thirty talented and versatile Washington men and women, said today that "The F Street Revue" would prove the best attraction his organization ever put on and that he expected a capacity crowd so as to swell the fund for Mrs. Bradley. . According to Manager Durno, there is one entertainer on the program who alone will be worth the price of admission. That one is Harry E. Marlowe, the well known lyric tenor. Marlowe's voice, in tone and volume, approaches that of the great McCor-mack, according to Mme. Borderi. Washington vocal instructor who enjoys a wide reputation. Bainbridge Crist, professor at the Boston Conservatory of Music, Boston. Mass., and composer of numerous ballads and lyrics of note, was so impressed by Marlowe's singing recently that tentative plans for a concert tour were drawn immediately. Marlowe, who sings for the keh people, has just returned from New York where arrangements were comcommittee, will talk to the commu-nity service class for the training of record, and at present he is engaged local executives in community service on the work in Boston, Wednesday morning, April 13, at the head-quarters of the local organization, pl8 Tenth street. Action Taken Despite Withdrawal Letter Sent by Assistant at Occoquan.

The Occoquan workhouse is giving the District Commissioners much to think about these days. Here are some late events: Semi-official announcement was made last week that Emanuel Ream. Captain of the Watch at the Treasry, would be made superintendent of the workhouse. Suffragist leaders launched an atack on Ream because of complaints they had against his administration of the institution where he was superntendent ten years ago. The Commissioners asked and got the resignation of W. E. Hall, Occoquan superintendent. Along comes Hall with a letter withdrawing his resignation and charging the Commisisoners with try ing to play politics.

Accompanying the Hall letter was copy of a letter to the twenty-six guards at the workhouse. Hall wrote hat he understood they had agreed to resign should he be removed and Ream be put on the job. Yesterday the guards wrote the Commissioners saying Hall had misunderstood them; that they merely said they would resign should his (Hall's) successor impose certain conditions on them.

With this correspondence before them, the commissioners yesterday accepted Hall's resignation, and it is said the original plan to place Ream
